FOREWORD.

1159022

The work of compiling this record was not begun, nor has it at any time been prosecuted, with any expectation or desire of pecuniary reward, but, on the contrary, was prompted purely by a love of kinship, and a desire to get in closer touch with the various lines of descent.

It is true, the work has grown to proportions beyond all expectation, and has required a large amount of time, patience and perseverance, but it has at all times been a fascinating and delightful labor of love.

It was the original intention of the compiler of these records to confine them to the descendants of his grandfather, Josiah^s Hale, but so much information, relative to his (Josiah's) ancestry and to other lines of descent therefrom, has been received that it has been thought best to extend the record to include his direct descent from Samuel Hale, "the settler" of Hartford, Conn., 1637.

An epistolary appendix has also been added showing some of the sources of information and incidentally other lines of Hale descent.

In this connection I would fain mention the names of those who have rendered conspicuous aid in the work, but so many have rendered such willing and more or less important service that to mention any names might seem to imply that the aid of all was not fully appreciated, and I must therefore content myself with this general expression of appreciation and gratitude.

There is a growing desire among the descendants of the old New England families to have the genealogies of their ancestors compiled, and I shall be most happy if this little volume should prove one of the stepping stones to a complete genealogy of our American ancestor Samuel Hale of Hartford.

But if it should only result in cementing the ties of friendship and consanguinity between those herein named, I shall feel amply rewarded.

OSCAR FITZALAN HALE.

Storm Lake, Iowa, Feb. 22, 1909.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING RELATIONSHIP CHART

First, study carefully the ancestral paragraph, found under "General Remarks" on another page. Then trace from the record the ancestry of the two persons whose relationship you wish to find, to their first and nearest common ancestor. From this ancestor taken as generation No. 1 find the number of the generation of each of the two persons. Now, refer to the Chart and trace the intersection of the generation numbers, so found, (from top and left hand margins of Chart) where you will find the relationship stated.

Examples. Find the relationship between Ray Ernest Smith (No. 216 of record) and Oscar Fitzalan Hale (No. 34). Turning to No. 216 we find the ancestry of Ray to be: (*Ray*¹⁰, *Milford*⁹, *Ira*⁸, *Julia*⁷ Adsit, *Hannah*⁶ Hale, *Josiah*⁵, *Moses*⁴, *Thomas*³, *Thomas*², *Samuel*¹). Now, turning to No. 34 we are referred to No. 32, where we find the ancestry of No. 34 to be: (*Oscar*⁷, *Daniel*⁶, *Josiah*⁵, *Moses*⁴, *Thomas*³, *Thomas*², *Samuel*¹).

An inspection of these ancestries shows *Josiah*⁵ to be the first and nearest common ancestor, from whom as first Ray is the 6th and Oscar 3rd generation. The intersection on Chart of numbers 6 and 3 or 3 and 6 shows them to be 4th cousins.

Again, take John White Hinckley, No. 26, and Kenyon Tudor Fay, child of No. 202. From No. 26 we are referred to No. 23, where we find for No. 26 *John*⁷ White Hinckley, *Sarah*⁶ Hale, *Josiah*⁵, *Moses*⁴, etc., and from No. 202 we get *Kenyon*¹⁰ Tudor Fay, *Frances*⁹ Wheeler, *Mary*⁸ Clarke, *Elvira*⁷ Hinckley, *Sarah*⁶ Hale, *Josiah*⁵, *Moses*⁴, etc. These show Sarah Hale as nearest common ancestor, from whom as first generation, Hinckley is 2nd and Fay is 5th generation. Tracing on chart the intersection of 2 from the left with 5 from top and 5 from the left and 2 from the top, we get the senior and junior relationship to be great-great uncle and great-great nephew.

For practice, take Milford Knowles Smith, child of No. 216, and Emily Rogene Seymour, child of No. 158, and find *Josiah*⁵ Hale as nearest common ancestor, from whom as first generation find Milford to be the 7th and Emily to be the 6th generation, and their relationship that of eighth cousins.

GENERAL REMARKS

The consecutive method of numbering is now used by all genealogists and is the standard adopted by the New England Historical-Genealogical Register nearly half a century ago and still adhered to as being simple and easily understood. It will be noticed that children's names following their parental record, with their consecutive number on the left hand margin, are carried forward, in order, to the body of the record for fuller treatment. Children under age and those without issue are, as a rule, given no consecutive number, but their record is given in full under parental record. The collection of these records has been a difficult task and many are not as full as they should be, but the best has been done under the circumstances. Doubtless many errors have unavoidably crept in, and in order to correct the same and prevent them from being perpetuated by future genealogists, all who recognize such errors are requested to inform me of the same, and at some time in the future I will endeavor to send out to all purchasers of the record an errata paster.

The ancestry of the members of each family is given following the name, in the body of the record, of the oldest member of the family and a reference to this member, by number, follows each successive member of that family. Children who have been given no consecutive numbers will of course get their ancestry from their parental records.

Particular attention is called to the above ancestral paragraph, as it will greatly aid in the use of the Relationship Chart found on another page.

The abbreviations used in this record are few and will be readily understood without explanation.

OF

FIRST GENERATION.

SAMUEL¹ HALE was our first American ancestor, born in England A. D. 1610 (Middletown Upper Houses, Grafton Press, N. Y City, p. 166).

The exact date of his coming to America is not known, but he is known to have been a settler at Hartford, Conn., in 1637 and that he bought land on the east side of the river Connecticut in 1639. He served in the Pequot war, with his brother Thomas, for which he received a lot in the Soldiers' Field (Glastonbury for 200 Years, p. 166, Hartford, 1885) and a grant of fifty acres was made to his heirs "for his services in the Pequot Warre" (Colonial Records, Conn., p. 423). In 1643 he resided in Weathersfield, Conn., moving to Norwalk, where he lived in 1655. While living in Norwalk he represented that town in the General Court in 1656, 1657 and in 1660 (Colonial Records, Conn., 1656—65, pp. 282, 288, 298). He returned to Weathersfield in 1660, living in that part now Glastonbury (set off in 1692), where he is reputed as having been a leading man. Died Glastonbury, Conn., Nov. 9, 1693. His wife's given name was Mary, thought by some to have been Mary Wells, but her maiden name is not certainly known.

His ancestry is not definitely known, but at the time when the settlement of New England was begun there were in England at least three large families of Hales in different parts of the Kingdom, viz.: the Hales of Kent, the Hales of Hertford and the Hales of Gloucestershire, and it is believed that Samuel of Hartford was descended from one of these (Appendix, letter G).

Contemporary with Samuel Hale in this country was Thomas Hale of Newbury, Mass., and Dea. Robert Hale of Charleston, Mass., 1630, and from these three all the Hales of New England stock are descended. They are not known to have been related, the Thomas Hale of Newbury not being the Thomas spoken of as having served in the Pequot war with his brother Samuel (Appendix, letter C).

FOURTH GENERATION.

MOSES⁴ HALE (Thomas³, Thomas², Samuel¹). Born at Glastonbury, Conn.; m. Mary Edwards of Middletown, Conn.; was at one time a resident of Lanesboro, Mass. He was one of the original proprietors of the Town of Rutland, Vt., a grant of land having been given by George the III of England to seventy men known as the "Original Proprietors" of the town of Rutland, Vt. This grant was something over six miles square and contained about 26,500 acres, "to be divided among them in seventy equal shares." (See frontispiece.) The records of the town show that he was at one time the owner of over 2,000 acres, a large part of which was within the present City of Rutland, including Main Street, North and South, and all East. (See Plate III, p. 9.) He left, as a family relic, his Bible to be given to "such of his descendants as should be named Moses." This Bible passed first into the hands of his son, Moses, Jr., second to Moses B., son of Moses, Jr., and is now a much prized possession in the family of S. Moses Hale (son of Moses B.), of North Stockholm Station, N. Y., and is yet in a good state of preservation. It was printed in 1791 (Appendix, letter A). Milford Hale Smith (No. 156) of Rutland, Vt., writes: "In the old grave yard on North Main St., in the City of Rutland, I have found four tombs with the following inscriptions: (1) 'Thomas Hale, B. 1755, D. Oct. 29, 1812, A. 57'; (2) 'Ruth Hale, wife of Thomas Hale, B. 1757, D. Jan. 27, 1801, A. 44'; (3) 'Joseph Hale, son of Thomas and Ruth Hale, B. 1779, D. April, 1800'; (4) 'Sarah Hale, Dau. of Thomas Hale, B. 1777, D. July 4, 1801.'

I am unable to find the tomb of Moses Hale." The above-mentioned tombs are, no doubt, those of Thomas, the second son of Moses, and his wife and two children.

SIXTH GENERATION.

HANNAH⁶ HALE (Josiah⁵, Moses⁴, Thomas³, Thomas², Samuel¹). Born, Rutland, Vt., Mar. 25, 1780; m. Aug. 30, 1800, Jacob Adsit. (See Plate V.) His ancestry has been traced back to one John Adsit, who settled in Lyme, Conn., 1716. His son Samuel, b. 1719, lived in Lyme until about 1760, then moved to Stanford, Dutchess Co., N. Y. His son Samuel, Jr., b. Stanford, 1754, served in the Revolutionary War, in Peter Van Ness' Regiment. He m. Phoebe Perdy, 1778, and moved to Willsboro Point, N. Y. His son Jacob, who m. Hannah Hale, as noted above, was b. Stanford, 1780, served in War of 1812. Was a farmer and is said to have been a noted mathematician. Of his wife Hannah but little knowledge comes to us. She d. Jan. 20, 1805, at Willsboro Point, N. Y., in the prime of life and felicitous motherhood, leaving two children, Jacob and Julia. He m. 2nd at Willsboro, about 1806, Sally Moore, dau. of ——— and ———, b. Sept. 6, 1787, by whom he had fourteen children as follows:

1. Lurinda, b. 1807; 2. Louisa; 3. Alva; 4. Elias; 5. James; 6. Moses; 7. Enos; 8. Phoebe; 9. Mary; 10. David; 11. William; 12. Harvey; 13. Himon and 14. Hulda, b. 1831, and the only one living, Oct. 1908. (For further information of these children, address Mary E. Fowler, Burlington, Vt., dau. of Harvey.)

He d. Willsboro, about 1862, and his second wife about 1864, and both are buried in Willsboro Cemetery and probably his first wife also. The old log house in which all his children by 2nd wife were born, is still standing.

ELISHA⁶ HALE (Bro. to No. 6). Born, Rutland, Vt., Jan. 9, 1782; m. Georgia, Vt., Dec. 5, 1805, Lucy Hinckley, b. Saybrook, Conn., April 14, 1782, dau. of Ira Hinckley and Elizabeth

Hyde.* Previous to his marriage he located a farm in the eastern portion of the township of Georgia, Franklin, Co., Vt., where he took his bride and where he lived until within a few years of his death, which occurred at the home of his son Hiram H. in Georgia, Vt., Sept. 22, 1874. The following brief obituary mention appeared in the St. Albans Messenger:

“HALE.—In Georgia, Vt., Elisha Hale in the 93rd year of his age. He was one of the pioneers of the town and, with one exception, the oldest citizen. A man of considerable ability and force of character in his day and generation.” He is otherwise described, by his last to survive child, Mrs. Almira Griswold, as “a typical New England pioneer, strong in constitution, energetic, persevering and of sterling integrity, a kind father, an indulgent husband and a genial friend. He accepted Christ as his Saviour when forty years of age and was ever after a firm believer in the efficacy of the atonement of Christ to save from sin.” Lucy, his wife, d. Oct. 19, 1867, while on a visit to their dau. Almira Griswold, near Waucon, Iowa, and was buried in the old Waucon Cemetery, where a monument marks her grave.

Moved to Bureau Co. thence to Stephenson Co. 1835, thence to near Evansville Rock Co., Wis. She was a sincere and devout Christian woman and in her last days it was her wont to repeat the following touching lines:

“ALMOST SUNDOWN”

I am looking over my labor,
By the light of the Setting Sun;
For I see by the lengthening Shadows,
That my day is nearly done.

My work for the blessed Master,
Is drawing toward its close;
Far less have I done in the Vineyard
Than I hoped, when the morning rose.

And yet while the daylight lingers,
I will work as well as I may;
Nor waste the remaining moments
Regretting a misspent day.

And O! if now in the vineyard
Are any, led there by my hand,
I give you this word at our parting,
As nearer the gateway I stand:

“Do all you can for the Master,
Do better than I have done
And then, when the day is ended
You may Welcome the Setting Sun.”

She was of a literary turn of mind and was a poet of considerable local celebrity. The following retrospective poem, written by her in her 82nd year, is clipped from the Essex County Republican, Keeseville, N. Y.:

I sat all alone, in my own easy chair,
 My loved ones were absent, I could not tell where;
 I spoke to the winds, as I heard their wild moan,
 Saying where, O ye wild winds, where, where, are they flown?

O where is that friend who most lovingly chose
 To sit down beside me each day at its close,
 And where, swift and wild winds, pray tell where is he,
 Whom I rocked in my lap, the last of the three?

Then answered the wild winds in low plaintive tones,
 Gone with the angels, never more to return;
 Then I sat in my chair, and rocked to and fro,
 Till moments seemed speaking of time long ago.

And these words I heard, in the voice of the past,
 Life's pleasures are fleeting, too fleeting to last;
 But warm early friendship through life shall endure,

No waters extinguish a flame that's so pure,
'Tis heaven's own daughter sent down from above,
Fair virtue's twin sister, her name shall be Love.

Willsboro, Point, N. Y., Mar. 10, 1884.

(For farther record see Appendix, letter I.)

James Smith, her husband, came to Willsboro Point with parents from Shelburne Point, Vt., in 1796, where he spent the remainder of his life. He served in War of 1812 and was in the battle at Plattsburg Jan. 27, 1814. Appointed lieutenant in the 37th N. Y. Inf. by Gov. James C. Yates, the original commission being now a family relic in the possession of his grandson, Rev. Milford Hale Smith, of Rutland, Vt. OLIVE⁷ EXPERIENCE HALE (sister to No. 16). Born, Stowe, Vt., Jan. 11, 1809; m. Georgia, Vt., Feb. 28, 1828, John Churchill, b. Stowe, Oct., 2, 1802, son of ——— Churchill and ———. Lived in succession at Stowe, Vt., Brandon, N. Y., 1843, Freeport, Ill., 1849, and Lansing, Ia., 1856. While visiting her sister, Almira (Hale) Griswold, at Waucon, Ia., in Oct. 1878, she fell down the cellar stairs and was instantly killed. Mrs. Griswold refers to this sad accident as one of the most agonizing of all her sorrowful experiences. Three doors, all alike in appearance, led from the room in which the evening had been spent, one into the parlor, one up stairs, and one down cellar. The good nights had been said and opening, as she supposed, the stair door, she took the fatal step. Her remains lie buried beside her mother Lucy (Hinckley) Hale (in the old Waucon Cemetery), who, it will be remembered, died at Mrs. Griswold's Oct., 1867, while on a visit just eleven years before.

He was a farmer. Enlisted in 27th Iowa Vol. Inf. in 1861, and d. in army hospital, Nashville, Tenn., June 25, 1864.

It was here that her mother died while on a visit. Sold farm 1877 and moved into Waucon. It was here that occurred the sad death of her sister Mrs. Olive Experience Churchill, as recorded in No. 17. In 1852 moved to a farm near Pucwana, S. D., where he d. Oct. 12, 1886. He was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Willard when only one year old, and was cared for by them as lovingly as their own children.

After his death she lived alternately with her dau. Mrs. Lucy Varcoe, and her son Francis. On Feb. 11, 1903, she fell, while at the home of her son, and broke her hip joint, which never healed. For nearly four and a half years she was compelled to lie in one position enduring her suffering with great patience and Christian fortitude, until death came, a welcome guest, to end her suffering. She possessed a wonderful memory of dates and occurrences, and to her is due much credit for the record of the early events recorded in this compilation. She d. at the home of her dau. HIRAM⁸ HARRISON HALE (Brother to J. Madison). Born, Georgia, Vt., June 15, 1840, m. April 23, 1863, Rogene Mears, b. —, dau. of Alburn Mears and Laura Lewis. He was a man of sound judgment and executive ability, a farmer who, by industry and thrift, secured one of the best farms and homes of Georgia. The following obituary notice is from the Watchman:

"In Georgia, Vt., Jan. 8, 1901, Dea. Hiram H. Hale, aged 60 years and 6 months. By the death of this dear brother the Baptist church of Georgia Plains loses one of its strongest pillars, and the community a worthy Christian citizen. Another name is to be added to the notable list of deacons whose deaths have of late been noted in the Watchman. Converted in early life, he was baptised by his pastor, Rev. Alvah Sabin, and grew up in church work. He served as Sunday school superintendent over thirty-one years, and as deacon seventeen years. He was the son of parents who served their generation by lives of Christian activity and usefulness. His father served as deacon forty-two years, and was the lifelong friend of Rev. Alvah Sabin. A few years later the son took his father's place in all the counsels of the church. In his home he will be greatly missed, where he was always the congenial companion, the cheerful, loving father and the faithful friend. He leaves the devoted wife of his youth, three daughters, one sister, and other friends to mourn his loss. The "sombre curtain" has fallen between us—but to him the rending veil reveals what "eye hath not seen, nor ear heard." "And they shall see His face." The funeral services were fittingly observed from his church home, Jan. 10, Rev. W. G. Scofield, of Richford, officiating. Text, 2 Tim. 4: 6, 7."

GEORGE⁹ ORRIN KIERNAN (Mary⁸ Landon, Adeline⁷ Hinckley, Sarah⁶ Hale, Josiah⁵, Moses⁴, Thomas³, Thomas², Samuel¹).

Born, Whitehall, N. Y., April 22, 1870. Began his literary career as professor of elocution in high school, Pittsburg, Pa., and later filled the same position at Lakeside Academy, but resigned to take up the work of Dramatic Recitals for Colleges and Schools, which work has proven him to be very gifted and popular, and his recitals are in great demand. He is soon to open a course for the Brooklyn, N. Y., Institute. Single.

Following is one of the very many testimonials he is receiving from the press and literary critics:

Dartmouth College.

“My Dear Mr. Kiernan:—It gives me great pleasure to write you of your success here. It is indeed a ‘rare man,’ we find, who is able to hold the complete attention of the students for two solid hours. But your ‘lovable Rip’ with his quaint toast of good fellowship, quite took the boys by storm. You have set for yourself probably the most difficult task in the whole dramatic world—that of reproducing, not impersonating, the character, atmosphere and loveliness of Jefferson’s characters. You are the more to be congratulated therefore on your great success. I understand you are to give ‘The Music Master’ next season. We shall await your coming to us again with much interest. Sincerely yours,

H. R. WELLMAN,—The College Club.”

His home address is 1208 Conistoga St., Philadelphia, Pa.

APPENDIX.

APOLOGETIC NOTE.

The following letters were not prepared for publication, but were written in that free and offhand manner in which one friend writes to another, and they should, therefore, be accepted only for the valuable information which they contain.

I am prompted to make this explanation because I am taking the liberty of inserting them without the knowledge or consent of the writers or any of their immediate relatives or friends.

I am induced to insert them because I consider them a valuable addition to this little compilation and because I think the information which they contain should be securely preserved for the use of future genealogists.

Trusting this explanation of motive will be accepted, by the living writers and the friends of those deceased, as a sufficient apology for the liberty taken, I remain,

Devotedly yours.

LETTER "A."

North Stockholm Station, N. Y., July 9, 1900.

O. F. Hale:

My Dear Kinsman:

I received your letter some time ago by the hand of my cousin Oscar⁷ H. Hale (Ira⁶, Moses⁵, Jr., Moses⁴, Thomas³, Thomas², Samuel¹), who lives in the town of Norfolk, N. Y. * * *

You ask for the family record in the old Hale Bible. I will say that I have this old keepsake in my possession on account of my name being Moses S. on the family record. This Bible was printed in 1791 and is in a good state of preservation for so old a book. But there never was any record in it, to my knowledge, but of my grandfather's family, Moses, Jr., fifth in descent of our first ancestor in this country, as you will see by the record I am sending you, which was furnished my uncle Ira⁶ Hale, my father, Moses B., and my cousin, Edward⁷ W., by the Hon. Robert S. Hale, of Elizabethtown, N. Y., in the year 1870. * * *

This Robert S. Hale was a congressman from Essex Co., N. Y., some thirty years ago, and was, as you will see, writing a history of the Hales in this country, but he died some years ago. * * *

I will give you the names of my grandfather's family, Moses⁵, Jr:

- I. Ira (O. H. Hale's father).
- II. Moses B. (my father).
- III. Asa (Edward W.'s father).
- IV. Eloisa, m. ——— Blake; d. in state of Ohio.
- V. Isaiah B. B., lived and died in Iowa.
- VI. Luther, lived and died in Wisconsin.
- VII. Mary.
- VIII. Alvin.
- IX. William E.
- X. Emma F.

You are right as to Moses Hale, Jr., once living at Georgia, Vt., and emigrating to Norfolk, N. Y. Most of his family, however, were born in Georgia before emigrating to N. Y. My father Moses B. was eight years old when the battle of Plattsburg took place (1814) across Lake Champlain, from Georgia about 30 miles, and he, with others of the family, heard the cannon roar and saw the smoke of the battle from the hills near their home. * * *

Yours truly,

S. M. HALE.

LETTER "B."

(Referred to in Letter "A.")

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Dec. 14, 1870.

Edward W. Hale,

My Dear Sir:

I thank you very much for your letter of the 12th and accompanying statement, and from it I can give you, connecting it with facts in my possession, your complete American pedigree.

You [Edward W. Hale] are seventh in descent from Samuel Hale¹, who emigrated to this country in or before 1637 and finally settled at Glastonbury, Conn., where many of his descendants still reside. His son Thomas² married Naomi Kilburn and lived at Glastonbury. His son Thomas³ married Susannah Smith and also lived at Glastonbury. His son Moses⁴ married Mary Edwards and emigrated to Rutland, Vt., about 100 years ago (1769). Your grandfather was Moses⁵, your father Asa⁶ and yourself⁷.

I have a large amount of information relating to the family—descendants of Samuel¹, of Glastonbury, among whom are the late James T. Hale, M. C. from Penn., Reuben C. Hale of Philadelphia, Gideon Welles, late Secretary of the Navy, and his wife, Rev. Albert Hale, of Springfield, Ill., etc., etc. I will be glad to furnish you anything in my possession relating to the family.

Wm. F. Hale, a clerk in the Interior Dept., is your second cousin, his grandfather, Asa Hale, having been a brother to your grandfather Moses.

I am not of this family, my first ancestor in this country having been Thomas Hale, of Newbury, Mass., who may have been a relative of Samuel, but certainly was not his brother, as Samuel had a brother Thomas who was another person.

All the Hales of New England stock, whom I have succeeded in tracing, are descendants of either one of these two (Thomas and Samuel) or from Robert Hale who settled at Charlestown, Mass., about 1630, and among whose descendants are Hon. John P. Hale, Rev. Edward, Nathan, the spy, etc., etc. If these matters have any interest for you please pick up all the information you can about every person of the name of Hale, and send it to me.

I am accumulating all I can in the hope of sometime getting a complete history of the family in print.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT S. HALE.

To Edward W. Hale.

LETTER "C."

(Referred to in Letter "A.")

Elizabethtown, N. Y., Mar. 14, 1870.

Moses B. Hale,

Dear Sir:

Very pressing engagements have prevented my earlier acknowledging your valued letter of January last with its very full information in regard to your family and connections. * * *

I send you the following information in regard to your ancestors from the beginning of their residence in this country, which you may like to preserve for the benefit of all your branch of the family.

SAMUEL HALE¹ was your first ancestor in this country. [Here follows a brief biography of Samuel as embodied in No. 1 of Record, and then the letter continues.] His brother Thomas¹ was a "single man" at Roxbury, Mass., in 1634, removed soon after to Hartford, Conn., returned to Roxbury and there married Jane Lord in Feb., 1640, returned to Conn., and was among the first settlers at Norwalk in 1654; returned to Charleston, Mass., and there, Dec. 14, 1659, married a second wife, Mary Nash, and had by her a son John², baptized Apr., 23, 1665. I have no further record of his children or descendants. * * *

Among the descendants of Samuel¹ I will mention, besides the descendants of your family, the following: Rev. Albert Hale, D. D., of Springfield, Ill., Hon. James T. Hale, late M. C. from Penn., Hon. Reuben C. Hale, of Philadelphia, Hon. Gideon Welles, late Secretary of the Navy, and his wife, Sylvester Hale and his son William Henry Hale, both of Albany, and a large number of the name still residing in Glastonbury.

During the Revolutionary War, sixteen of the name of Hale [one Josiah, 1777] residing in Glastonbury, took the oath of fidelity to the colonies and seven of them served in the Revolutionary army, two dying in the service. They were doubtless all descendants of your ancestor Samuel¹. This gives about all I have of the Glastonbury Hales except the descendants of the other sons (some of them) of Samuel¹. * * *

My own descent is from a different stock, my first ancestor in this country being Thomas Hale¹, (a different person from Thomas the brother of Samuel¹), who settled at Newbury, Mass., in 1635, and died there Dec. 21, 1682.

Among his descendants, besides my own immediate family, are Rev. Benj. Hale, D. D., late president of Geneva College, Hon. Salma Hale, of Keene, N. H., Hon. Artmus Hale, late M. C. from Massachusetts, Hon. Eugene Hale, now M. C. from Maine, Geo. S. Hale, Esq., of Boston, Mass., William G. Hale, Esq., of New Orleans, and a numerous posterity in Mass., New Hampshire, Vermont, New York and other states.

Besides these original emigrants there was Deacon Robert Hale, who settled at Charlestown, Mass., in 1630, among whose descendants were Nathan Hale, the Revolutionary Capt., who was executed by the British as a spy; Hon. John P. Hale, of N. H., Rev. Edward Everet Hale, of Boston, David Hale, for many years editor of the New York Journal of Commerce, and many more. I have no evidence that Thomas, of Newbury, Robert of Charlestown, and Samuel, of Glastonbury, were related.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT S. HALE.

To Moses B. Hale, Esq.

LETTER "D."

Written to Robert S. Hale, of Elizabethtown, N. Y., (now deceased) (see Letter "A.") and endorsed by him as follows:

"Descendants of Moses⁵ Hale of St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., son of Moses⁴, of Rutland, Vt., son of Thomas³, of Glastonbury, son of Thomas², son of Samuel¹, of Glastonbury—Received 14 Dec., 1870, from Edward⁷ Warren Hale, of Washington, D. C., son of Asa⁶, son of Moses⁵."

Moses⁵ Hale. Born in Vermont—Rutland, I think—grew up there and married Miss Freeloove Barber. He removed to Stockholm, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., about 1820, where he died about 1840. His family consisted of ten children, seven sons and three daughters. I cannot give them in the order of their ages exactly. They were named Ira, Alvin, Moses B., Luther, William, Isaiah, and Asa H., Mary, Emma and Eloisa. I take them in the order named and give you their descendants.

Ira has been married three times and is now living with his third wife. Has no children except by first wife, who was a Miss Amelia Judson, and who bore him three children: Ozro J., Oscar and Louise. The first two married, and are still living. Ozro is in Milwaukee, and has two children, both girls, I do not know their names. His wife's maiden name was Dumdorf.

Oscar resides in Norfolk, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., and married a Miss Gage and has three children, all girls, I don't know their names.

Louisa married M. R. Knapp and died leaving one child—a girl.

Alvin died several years ago, unmarried.

Moses B. is now 66 years old, living in Norfolk, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y., married a Miss Melissa Sumner, who died recently and who bore him four children: Wallace, Sumner [Moses Sumner, writer of Letter "A."] Janet and Sarah. Wallace married a Miss Manchester, has one child—a girl—and lives near his father. Sumner is still single, a young man of 22 or thereabouts. Janet married Giles Holbrook, of Potsdam, has one child—a boy. Sarah is single and an invalid.

Luther married Gomes and losing his wife soon after, without having children, became a wanderer and I believe is now somewhere in Wis., still single.

William is now about 60, did not marry until somewhat advanced. His wife was a Miss Thompson, who bore him one child, a dau. now married and living near him at Potsdam Junction.

Isaiah B. d. in 1856 or 7 in Wis. He removed in early life to Wheeling, Va., and was for some time in the practice of law there and afterwards connected with the P. O. Dept. His wife, who was a Miss Cooley, died before him and he left a family of four children, two boys and two girls, the oldest being a girl who married and removed to Minn., her younger brother and sister going with her. Of this uncle's family I know little save this—I don't know their ages, nor am I certain about their names.

Asa H., my father, is now 56 years old, was married in 1838 to Miss Sarah Felch and has six children living, two sons and four daughters, named Mary, Fannie, Agnes and Elizabeth, Edward (myself) and Charles, who is now twelve years old. The daughters are all single. I am the only one of his family who has married and my wife died only a few months after my marriage.

Mary married a man named Mears and died young, I think without children.

Emma married a man named Morgan and is still living in Potsdam, having no children.

Eloisa married Hamilton Blake and removed to Ohio, where she still lives. Has a large family, but I do not know much of them.

These are briefly the facts I am in possession of in regard to our immediate family. I have not the accurate data as to ages of those named nor the dates of the death of those who have passed away. Can procure them if you desire, which will I presume depend upon your ability to connect this branch with the family history you are trying to complete.

LETTER "E."

Written to Robert S. Hale (obtained through the kindness of his daughter Mary E. Hale, of Elizabethtown, N. Y.) and endorsed by him:

"Descendants of William⁵ Hale, Moses⁴, Samuel⁴, of Glastonbury. Received 4 Dec., '74, of Mrs. Luther B. Wyman [Frances Ann] through James W. Hale."

William⁵ Hale, born July 1, 1867; m. Sarah Perry, of Rutland, Vt., lived there and died there Feb. 7, 1889 His widow m. ——— Emmons, of Fort Edward, N. Y., and lived but a few years.

Asa⁵ Hale [brother to William] lived in Rutland, had a son, Edward, who m. and went to St. Louis to live, and two daughters, one of whom m. a chaplain in the Navy by the name of Cheever Felch and who, at the time my father resided in Boston, had their residence at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

David Hale [also brother to William] moved from Rutland to Boston, Mass., m. Mary Child and had five children: Thomas (died single) Henry Martin (died young), David W., and Helen and Mary Pickard.

William⁵ Hale (my grandfather) had nine children, born in Rutland:

(1) Frances, m. Enos Farnsworth, went to Missouri to live and in a few years was left a widow with two children, Enos and Sarah. She afterward m. Henry Ham, of Bass, Canada West.

(2) Chloe, died unmarried.

(3) Ann m. David Bristol, of Fort Edward, N. Y., had five daughters, the eldest being named Chloe.

(4) Harriet went to Mayfield, Fulton Co., N. Y., and I think died unmarried.

(5) Henry died, a young man, in New Orleans, La.

(6) William died in infancy.

(7) William Hiram (my father) born in Rutland, Vt., April 25, 1799. When he was nine years of age, his father lost all his property by endorsing a note for a friend, and it hastened his death. The family were soon scattered, William going to live with his uncle David, in Boston. He remained there a few years and went to Providence, R. I., to learn the trade of silver pencil case making. There he met May Bowen Cooke, the daughter of Thomas and Sarah Cooke, of Providence, and m. her in that place Feb. 1, 1820. From the time father left his home in Rutland he never returned to it, and did not see any member of his family for many years. After his marriage he continued to live in Providence for a year or more; he moved to Boston, remaining there only a few months and finally came to New York City and went into the employ of Thomas Adison, remaining there until 1831, when he moved his family to Brooklyn, L. I., and commenced manufacturing on his own account. He was very successful, but close attention to business told on his health and he died at a comparatively early age, Nov. 22, 1839. * * *

Father was of an inventive turn of mind and after coming to Brooklyn, occupied himself in inventing several machines for engravers' use, also the invention of a steam carriage designed to run upon common roads. He also invented and patented a machine for gauging or registering the amount of water in steam boiler as a preventive to explosives. The steam carriage came home a year before father's death, but was never put to any use or taken out again as he was taken ill immediately after. It cost over $2,000.00 and was sold several years afterward for $250.00.

Children of William Hiram and Mary B. Hale:

Sarah Frances born and died in Providence, Dec. 8, 1820.

Mary Cooke, born in Boston, Jan. 19, 1823, m. Geo. Atwater July 2, 1840.

Frances Ann [the writer of this letter], born Jan. 13, 1826, in New York City, married Luther B. Wyman Nov. 15, 1849.

Eliza Maria, born in New York City, Mar. 18, 1828; m. John J. Wizeman, Oct. 17, 1854.

Mr. Oscar F. Hale,

Pocahontas, Iowa.

My Dear Cousin:

Your letter to Edward Warren Hale, which I enclose, was sent to me by some mistake or misunderstanding of the advice given you by Mrs. Marcia Turner Hale, of Glastonbury, Conn., who is a very dear friend and relative of mine. Her husband, Hezekiah Hale, Jr., is a son of my grandfather, Gideon Hale, Jr.'s brother, Hezekiah Hale, Sr. She has a habit of referring genealogists to me, due I suppose to her knowledge of my interest in the history of our family. Some years ago when I had more leisure, I enjoyed very much hunting up records of our ancestors, but of late have been too busy with other matters.

I think your letter should have gone to Mr. E. W. Hale, of New York City, who I believe is connected with the U. S. Sub-Treasury. I have not his exact address, but if you will write to Mr. W. Farrand Felch, of Hartford Conn., P. O. Box 149, I think you may get it from him, and I presume he can furnish you with some of the information you require.

I have been writing to him to-night and have mentioned you and your letter to him. He is editor of the Genealogical Department of The Hartford "Times." I think he is in some way related to the E. W. Hale of New York City. I would be very glad if it were in my power to furnish the information you seek, but cannot except as this may put you on the right track.

In your letter you speak of Bishop Charles Reuben Hale, late bishop of Cairo, Ill. He died on last Christmas day. His father, Reuben C. Hale, was the son of Elias White Hale (another brother of my grandfather Gideon Hale, Jr.), who was the son of Gideon, Sr., of Benjamin, of Samuel, Jr., of Samuel, Sr., who was the father of your ancestor Thomas, from whom you descend through Thomas, Jr., Moses, Josiah and Daniel.

I am going to send you with this a copy of part of a letter which I wrote to a lady in Minnesota, which may contain something of interest to you. [See Ap. Letter "G."] Please return it to me when you are through with it.

There are quite a number of Hales here in Summit County, descendants of Jonathan Hale, who came and settled here from Glastonbury, Conn., in 1810. Jonathan was the son of Theodore, of Jonathan, of Samuel, Jr., of Samuel, Sr.

They are good people; no better anywhere. I came here from Connecticut three years ago. Othello W. Hale, Deputy Clerk of our County, a grandson of Jonathan, a few years ago published a chart showing the ancestry of Jonathan Hale and giving a complete list of his descendants down to the date of publication.

He intends to send you a copy. I don't think he will forget; if he does just write and jog his memory.

Mr. James Buckingham, of Zanesville, Ohio, son of Eunice Hale (Buckingham) the daughter of Benjamin Hale, son of Timothy, Jr., son of Timothy, Sr., of Thomas, of Samuel, Sr., has also compiled and published a history and chart which I am sure would interest you, as it includes some of your ancestors.

I wish you all success in your work, and wish I could help, but unfortunately the pressure of other work prevents. I would be glad to have a copy of the chart enclosed in your letter. If you ever come this way be sure to come and see us. Very Respectfully,

Your Kinsman,

EDWARD WHITE HALE.

LETTER. "G."

Portion of a letter written by Edward White Hale, of Akron, Ohio, to Miss Julia M. Bassett, of Glyndon, Minn.

Edward White⁷ Hale is the son of Osmer⁶ and Susan Smith (North) Hale, son of Gideon⁵ Hale, Jr., son of Gideon⁴ Hale, Sr., son of Benjamin³ Hale, son of Samuel² Hale, Jr., son of Samuel¹ Hale, "the settler" at Hartford, Conn., 1637. Miss Julia M. Bassett is the maternal granddaughter of Mason Hale, son of Benjamin Hale, who was born in R. I. and removed to Pa.

About the end of the twelfth century Alexander Hales was a noted scholar and philosopher. He is reputed to have been the teacher of Saint Thomas Aquinas. At the time when the settlement of New England was begun there were in England at least three large families of the name of Hale in different parts of the Kingdom. There were the Hales of Kent, the Hales of Hertford, and the Hales of Gloucestershire. Of the last of these families was the celebrated Sir Mathew Hale, who was nearly contemporary with Samuel, Robert and Thomas Hale, having been born 1609 and died in 1676.

Robert Hale, the ancestor of the immortal Nathan Hale, was of the family of Kent. He came to Massachusetts in 1632 and settled at Charleston. I think that you may find that you are descended from him—Robert—of whose descendants, Rev. Edward Everet Hale, of Boston, Mass., has written some history—part of which I have seen in his appendix to "The Life of Nathan Hale," by I. W. Stewart, published at Hartford, Conn., about 1850. My only reason for this opinion is the proximity of Bristol R. I., to Charleston, Mass., as compared with Newbury, Mass., where Thomas Hale settled in 1635, or with Hartford, Conn., where we find Samuel Hale in 1637.

Thomas Hale, who settled in Newbury, belonged to the Hertfordshire family. The name in England appears to have been spelled, now with a final s, and now without. Probably most of the Hales in New England have sprung from Thomas of Newbury, Robert of Charlestown, or Samuel of Hartford. There is a tradition that Thomas had a brother who came with him to Newbury and afterward went to Connecticut and settled there. This may have been my ancestor, *Samuel Hale*¹.

We know that he was at Hartford in 1637 and that he was a soldier in the Pequot War and that for his services therein, he received a lot in the "Soldiers' Field." In 1639, he owned land in Hartford on the east side of the river, but in 1643 he lived in Westersfield. In 1655, he resided in Norwalk, Conn., but returned to Westersfield in 1660—though he did not sell his property in Norwalk until 1669.

While residing in Norwalk he represented that town in the General Court, 1656-7 and in 1660. After his return to Westersfield he hired the estate of Gov. Thomas Welles, which, from testimony in a case tried in 1671, appears to have been on the east side of the Connecticut River.

Samuel Hale's wife's name was Mary. When they were married we do not know. Their children were all born in this country as follows: (1) Martha, b. 1643, (2) Samuel, b. 1645, (3) John [1647], (4) Mary, b. 1649, (5) Rebeckah, 1651 (6) Thomas [1653], (7) Ebenezer [1661], (8) Dorothy. Samuel Hale, Sr., died Nov. 9, 1693. Of his wife's death we have no record.

Samuel Hale², Jr., of Glastonbury, Conn., was married in 1679 to Ruth, daughter of Thomas Edwards and had the following children: Samuel³, Mary³, Ruth³. His first wife died Dec. 26, 1682, and Samuel Hale² married Mary Welles, daughter of Samuel Welles and granddaughter of Governor Thomas Welles, and had the following children [by second wife]: Jonathan³, David³, Joseph³ and BENJAMIN³.

Lieut. Samuel² Hale died Nov. 18, 1711.

Mrs. Mary (Welles) Hale died Feb. 18, 1715.

BENJAMIN³ HALE, of Glastonbury, Conn., married Hannah Talcott, Jan. 30, 1792 [1729] and had the following children: (1) Hannah⁴, b. May 9, 1732, (2) Ruth⁴, b. July 14, 1734,

(3) GIDEON⁴, b. Dec. 30, 1736, (4) Rachel⁴, b. April 25, 1739, (5) Mary⁴, b. March 1, 1742, d. June 22, 1790, (6) Benjamin⁴, b. Feb. 1, 1745, (7) Josiah⁴, b. Jan. 27, 1747; graduated at Yale College, 1765, was clerk of his native town, Glastonbury, from 1781 until 1804. He died July 8, 1808, of consumption.

BENJAMIN³ HALE died July 22, 1784 at 76; Hannah Talcott died Feb 6, 1796, at 89.

GIDEON⁴ HALE, son of Benjamin Hale and Hannah Talcott, his wife, was married to Mary White, daughter of Ebenezer and Ann (Hollister) White, of Catham, Conn., Dec. 23, 1762. They had the following children: (1) Anna⁵, b. Sept. 21, 1763; married May 2, 1782, Samuel Welles, of Glastonbury. She died Jan. 11, 1816 (Gideon Welles, Sec. of the Navy, 1861-1869, was her son); (2) Hannah⁵ born March 2, 1765; married her brother-in-law, Samuel Welles, Oct., 1816. She died Dec. 6, 1818; (3) GIDEON⁵ [Jr.], born Feb. 28, 1767, married Anna Case, May 18, 1803; (4) Esther⁵, born — — —, baptized Mar. 12, 1769, died Jan. 30, 1830, aged 60; (5) Ebenezer⁵, born Jan. 22, 1771, married Sarah Cornwall, died June 25, 1843; (6) Reuben⁵, born Feb. 6, 1773, married Wealthy Tracy, of Towander, Pa.; (7) Elias⁵ White, born April 11, 1775; graduated at Yale, 1794, married Jane Mulhallan, Feb. 26, 1810; (8) Amelia⁵, born Aug. 16, 1777, married Aaron Kinnie, of Groton, Conn. She died March 12, 1847, aged 69. (Aaron Kinnie died April 24, 1815.) (9) Hezekiah⁵, born Oct. 14, 1779, married Pamelia Coleman (b. 1792). He died Feb. 25, 1832, aged 52. (10) Mary⁵, born Jan. 25, 1782, [married] Solomon Cole, of Glastonbury, Conn. She died March 9, 1860. (11) Nancy⁵, born April 11, 1785, died, unmarried, March 19, 1808, aged 22. Gideon⁴ Hale, Sr., died Oct. 10, 1812. Mrs. Mary (White) Hale, his wife, born July 11, 1740, died April 11, 1820.

Gideon⁵ Hale, Jr., son of Gideon and Mary (White) Hale, was born in Glastonbury, Conn., Feb. 28, 1767. He married Anna Case, daughter of John and Rachel (Smith) Case, May 18, 1803. They had the following children: (1) a son, b. Oct. 30, 1807, died Oct. 30, 1807; (2) Nancy⁶, born 1809, died unmarried Nov. 20, 1844; (3) OSMER⁶, born Oct. 14, 1811. Gideon⁵ Hale, Jr., died April 27, 1831, aged 67. Anna (Case) Hale, his wife, died Jan. 9, 1859, aged 78.

OSMER⁶ HALE, son of Gideon and Anna (Case) Hale, was born in Glastonbury, Conn., Oct. 14, 1811. He was twice married, first to Elizabeth Meigs Southmayd, daughter of Allyn and Lucy (Meigs) Southmayd, of Middletown, Conn., June 24, 1840. Their children were: (1) *Allyn Southmayd*⁷, born June 6, 1841 (married first Georgia Lascelle, of Syracuse, N. Y., June 8, 1863; second, Ida Belle Terry, of Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 20, 1874). He died March 8, 1883. (2) *Elizabeth Meigs*⁷, born July 23, 1843, died Feb. 25, 1845; (3) *Charles Osmer*⁷, born July 11, 184—, died March 11, 1878.

Elizabeth Meigs Southmayd, wife of Osmer⁶ Hale, died at the homestead in Glastonbury, July 31, 1846, and he married second wife Susan Smith North, daughter of James and Mary (Doud) North, of Middletown, Conn., April 13, 1847. Children: (4) *Elizabeth Southmayd*⁷, born Aug. 15, 1848, died Nov. 10, 1851; (5) *Reuben North*⁷, born Aug. 26, 1852, died Sept. 22, 1843; (6) EDWARD WHITE⁷ HALE, born Jan. 19, 1854, married Catharine Roosevelt (North) Holway, Feb. 7, 1876; (7) *Emma Susan*⁷, born Mar. 30, 1856, died Aug. 8, 1870; (8) *Mary North*⁷, born July 9, 1863, married Arthur Pardew Hart, April 11, 1888; (9) James North, born Oct. 2, 1866.

*Osmer Hale*⁶ died at his home in Glastonbury, Conn., Aug. 4, 1870.

*Allyn Southmayd*⁷ Hale, son of Osmer and Elizabeth Meigs (Southmayd) Hale, married twice, first to Georgia Lascelle, by whom he had one child, 1 *Morris*⁸, born 1870, died — —, 1870.

Georgia Lascelle, wife of Allyn S.⁷ Hale, died at Hartford, Conn., June 18, 1871, and was buried in Syracuse, N. Y. He married, second, Ida Belle Terry, of Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 20, 1874. They had two children: (2) *Mary Bessie*⁸, born April 16, 1876; (3) *Osmer Terry*⁸, born January 28, 1878. *Allyn Southmayd*⁷ Hale died March 8, 1883, aged 41. (Mrs. Ida B. Hale, widow of Allyn S.⁷ Hale, and her two children live at Clearwater, Cal.)

EDWARD WHITE⁷ HALE, son of Osmer⁶ and Susan Smith (North) Hale, was born in Glastonbury, Conn., Jan. 19, 1854. He married, Feb. 7, 1876, Mrs. Catharine Roosevelt (North) Holway, daughter of (his mother's brother) Henry Savage North and Angelica (Meigs) North, of Middletown, Conn.

They have one son Edward Osmer^s Hale, born March 19, 1877. Baptized July 23, 1877.

Mary North^r Hale, daughter of Osmer^s and Susan Smith (North) Hale, was born in Glastonbury, Conn., July 9, 1863. She was married April 11, 1888, to Arthur Pardew Hart, of Wethersfield, Conn. They have three children: (1) Howard Hale^s Hart, born Aug. 5, 1889; (2) Arthur Cyprian^s Hart, born June 27, 1891; (3) Richard North^s Hart, born Dec. 7, 1895. They reside (1898) in Wethersfield, Conn.

James North^r Hale, son of Osmer and Susan Smith (North) Hale, was born in Glastonbury, Conn., Oct. 2, 1866. He has been married three times; first to Catharine Bulkley Warner (Oct. 12, 1891). She was the daughter of John and Catharine (Bulkley) Warner, of Wethersfield, Conn. Mrs. Catharine Bulkley (Warner) Hale died at Weathersfield, Conn., Aug. 26, 1893. He was married, second, Dec. 25, 1895, to Gertrude Louise Nott, of Niantic, Conn. She was the daughter of Mr. William and Mrs. Ellen Louise (Harris) Nott, of Middletown, Conn., where she was born April 20, 1876. Mrs. Gertrude Louise (Nott) Hale, the second wife of Jas. North^r Hale, died at Weathersfield, Conn., July 6, 1897, leaving twin babies born June 29, 1897. Their names are Osmer William^s (died Sept. 8, 1898) and Gertrude Mary. James North^r Hale married, third, Harriet Deutith, April 6, 1898. They have one child, Lillian^s Hale.

LETTER "H."

Hartford, Conn., March 14, 1901.

Dear Cousin O. F. Hale:—

I have your favor of Feb. 19th, nearly a month old, and would have answered sooner, but my genealogical column in the Hartford Times has taken up all my time that I have to give to genealogy. I have also been having the grip, and am at home at present suffering from it. I had heard that you were going to write me, from Mr. Edward White Hale, of Arkon, Ohio, formerly of Wethersfield, Conn., who wrote me that you had written him and he had referred you to me.

No, I am not a Hale descendant, but related to the family distantly. The Cheever Felch you mention was my grandfather's brother—both of them ministers, only uncle Cheever was a chaplain in the Navy many years. My grandfather was Rev. Nathan Felch, of Felchville, near Reading, Vt., which was settled from Reading, Mass., where the Felchs lived from 1640 down to the Revolutionary War. Rev. Nathan Felch, Sr., father of Nathan, Jr., and Cheever, married Mary Cheever, who was a great-granddaughter of Ezekiel Cheever, who taught school for seventy years in Boston, New Haven, etc., founded the famous Boston Latin School, where he taught three generations of pupils, and was also a leader in the movement that founded Yale College. A great many of the Cheever descendants and of Mary (Cheever) Felch are teachers. It seems to run in the blood.

So much for the Felchs. Now for the Hales. I wrote up the Felch Family when I was in school, a mere boy, and published it in pamphlets, down to my grandfather's time. I also wrote up the Ward, Bruen, Farrand families on my mother's side. Then I was attracted to the Hales, and spent a whole winter of my leisure, outside of office-hours, evenings, etc., in tracing the origin of the family back to 1300 or somewhere then, and bringing it down for 300 years; then I was going ahead to trace out the various English titled lines but circumstances prevented at the time, and my cousin, Mr. E. W. Hale, of New York City, told me not to go ahead till I heard from him, and he heard from other members of the family about it. So it was never taken up. I furnished him and one or two other a copy of what I had written at great labor and covering a whole winter, and have a copy myself. I also wrote to Dr. Edward Everett Hale, of Boston, the famous author and clergyman, and he loaned me his papers, which I copied entire; only he is of another line. And that line is printed now. The sticking point in our investigations was to get the English ancestors of Samuel Hale, of Hartford, 1637, and I had, I believe, when we stopped the work, the proper line, but it was never fully ascertained. It would require some trans-Atlantic search and considerable expense, and I think Mr. Hale did not get the co-operation he wanted to trace it. There it has hung fire ever since, but I have been willing to go on with it at any time; and am now, only my General Department will prevent me from doing more than supervising the work.

I feel already assured that my cousin (second cousin) Mr. Edward W. Hale (who is an officer in the U. S. Sub-Treasury, in New York City), will feel highly gratified and perhaps surprised when he learns that you have undertaken the descendants of Moses Hale, who is his forbear. I will send him a copy of this letter and tell him that you will write him soon. I feel sure, also, that Mr. Edward White Hale, of Akron, who has a barrelful of data as to the first Hales here and at Glastonbury, will co-operate with us, as far as they are concerned, and he has a great many historical papers, letters, deeds, wills, etc., of Samuel, Thomas, etc., and his own particular line. Then there are the Hales of Glastonbury and Hartford and E. Hartford who are working on their own lines; and I have recently been in correspondence with an Asaph H. Hale, of Portland, Conn., a great-grandson of an Ephraim Hale, who settled there 200 years ago, and he is very greatly interested in tracing his line, and is to call and see me soon. He has given me a lot of other addresses of descendants of Ephraim, and between us we can work up that branch. So that, by all co-operating together, we can in a year or two get up a very creditable genealogy of the descendants of Samuel and his brother (?) Thomas, of Norwalk. What do you say to that proposition? I can, myself, only work on it intermittently, as my General Department takes up all the time I have outside my office hours. I search for an hour after the office closes, then the library closes, and I come home evenings and write out my notes, etc.

Write to Mr. Edward Warren Hale, care Sub-Treasury, Wall St., N. Y., and tell him what you tell me, and I will write him meantime. Let us all get together our heads and hearts and see what we can accomplish. When it is all done and ready for the printers, we will see that it is gotten out in beautiful form, fine type and paper—somehow, I feel sure.

Respectfully,

W. FARRAND FELCH.

LETTER "I."

88 Sands Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 30, 1908.

O. F. Hale, Esq.,

Storm Lake, Iowa.

My Dear Sir and Kinsman:

Your communications to Hiram Morhous and to me, directed to Willsborough, N. Y., have been forwarded to and received by me.

Willsborough is the correct name of the town, but by common usage it is shortened to Willsboro. It is located on the western shore of Lake Champlain, and at the northern end a point projects into the Lake, the Lake being to the east and Peru Bay to the west. This point is about five miles long, is nearly surrounded by water and is variously called "Willsborough Point," "Willsboro Point," and locally, "The Point." Willsboro Point is a part of the town of Willsboro, Essex Co., N. Y.

Wallace F. Smith and his wife, Eliza Morhous Smith, now live on Willsboro Point upon premises adjoining that where Jacob Adsit lived with his young bride, Hannah Hale.

I well remember my grandmother, Julia Adsit Smith, daughter of Jacob Adsit and Hannah Hale. She was at Georgia, Vt., at the time of the battle of Plattsburg and heard the firing of the cannon. She was at the village of Willsborough Falls when a party of British soldiers came up the Bouquet River. She was then a girl of 14 with black eyes and red cheeks and she used to tell of how a British officer complimented her in an admiring way about her good looks. She was a rather large woman and was well preserved in her old age, and when 80 years of age had bright eyes and remarkably red cheeks and was active, working in the garden and picking berries and taking quite lengthy walks to the neighbors and to our house a mile away. She was religious and held strictly to the exact wording of the Scriptures. I remember her having an argument with some wandering canvasser and her silencing him upon the point of whether the World was created in six days by triumphantly quoting the account in Genesis and asserting that it was the word of God and could not be denied. She was given to poetry and on one occasion had a dream that she stood by the grave of one Abram Weldon, then recently dead, and was called upon to prepare an epitaph, which she did, and which made such an impression that she remembered it when she awoke. It was as follows: "O Abram, You rest now I trust, Ashes to ashes and dust to dust, But when you hear the Archangel sound, Rise up, Abram, and leave the ground." Her final illness (which so far as I know was her only one) was peculiar. She told my mother that she was not going to live long and without any special pain or ill-feeling took to her bed. The doctor said she had heart trouble. She had some difficulty in breathing, but in other respects had no pain or trouble. She desired to remain in a room without heat although the weather was very cold. She gradually grew weaker and passed away without a pain and saying and apparently feeling fully content to go.

Julia Adsit married James Smith. William Smith, known as "Quaker" Smith, because his wife was a Quakeress, the grandfather of James Smith, came from Danbury, Conn., with his sons in ox-carts to Shelburn, Vt., about 1780, and settled at what became known as Quaker Smith Point. One of his sons, Caleb Smith, the father of James, crossed Lake Champlain upon the ice with a fine team of horses and settled upon the New York side of the Lake. He became very dissipated and his family grew up in extreme poverty. Caleb Smith married Sally Roback, the daughter of Dr. Jacob Roback (or Ruback). Roback was a surgeon in the army of Frederick the Great. He went to Quebec and enlisted in the British army as a sergeant, left the army and went to Connecticut, where he married a Miss Hill. He was at the Battle of Bennington and cared for the wounded. Afterward he was surgeon in a Vermont regiment for several years. After the war, he settled on Grand Isle, Vt., and practiced with great success along the whole length of Lake Champlain. He was one of the founders of the first medical society of the State of Vermont, at Rutland.

Elvira Hannah Smith was the second child of James Smith and Julia Adsit. In her early years, she taught school and also taught wax work and had a course in painting. She visited the Hale family in Vermont (I think at Georgia) and used to tell of how the family where she visited began their Sunday at sundown on Saturday evening and how strict they were in observance of the Sabbath. She told of an uncle of Julia Adsit Smith, a brother of Hannah Hale (I think he was a brother and that his name was Josiah, but am not certain) who was somewhat unsound mentally. He was a great mathematician and covered his barn all over with figures and mathematical calculations. He had recently returned from a visit to the West and told of his experiences. He was an incessant talker and told how he talked with people upon his trip, and they would say to him, "What is the matter with you, old man? Are you crazy?" And he would answer, "No. I am neither crazy, nor a fool, nor a crazy fool, but I am every whit whole." Elvira Hannah Smith married Hiram Chase Morhous about 1858 (I cannot give the date) and had two sons, James Rupert Morhous, who died in 1863 at the age of four years, and Charles Winford Morhous. She died at Willsboro Point in November, 1893.

Hiram Chase Morhous, husband of Elvira Hannah Smith, was born in Willsborough in 1833, was married in Willsborough and died in the town of his birth in December, 1903. His parents were Charles Morhous and Amy Vaugh. Charles Morhous was a son of John Morhous and a grandson of John Morhous, Sr., who was a sergeant in the Fairfax regiment in 1773, and is believed to be the same John Morehouse who was born to Thomas Morehouse in Saybrook, Conn., in 1732.

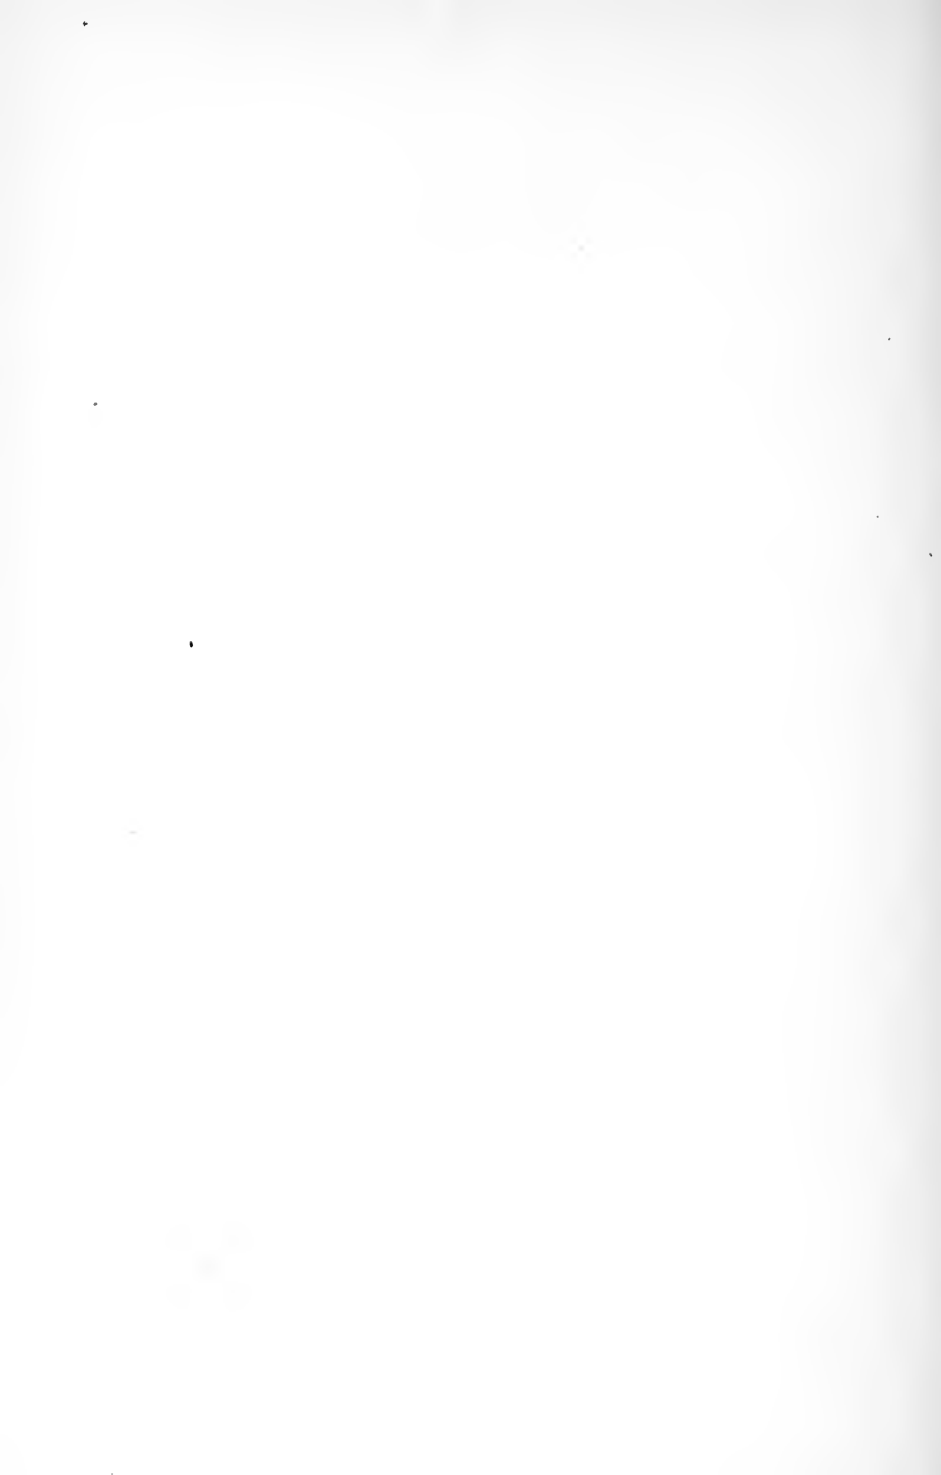

(Further information of the Adsit, Morhous and Hoffnagle families may be obtained from Rev. Milford Hale Smith, of Rutland, Vt.)

I, Charles Winford Morhous, was born October 28, 1863, on Willsborough Point, in the same house where Milford Hale Smith and Alberti Decatur Smith were born, and where Julia Adsit Smith had lived for many years and where she died. The three children of Julia Adsit Smith were born in an older house upon the same farm, I believe. He is unmarried; taught school; graduated from the State Normal College at Albany, N. Y., in June, 1900; taught school at Hillburn, N. Y.; studied law in the office of Hand, Kellogg & Hale, Elizabethtown, N. Y.; was admitted to practice in May, 1893; is now engaged in the practice of law at 44 Court Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

I appreciate the difficulty of obtaining matter for a genealogical record and have endeavored to give you such information as I possess and you may find useful, and regret that I cannot be more definite as to dates, but I do not have my memoranda at hand and have to give from memory. You may rest assured that you have my best wishes and hopes for your success in the "labor of love" which you have undertaken, and if I can at any future time be of service to you, please write me. I enclose order for one copy of your work.

Very sincerely yours.

CHARLES W. MORHOUS.
